TORNADO IN CHICAGO

Small Sized Cyclone in the Windy City.

A TERRIFIC DOWNFALL OF RAIN.

Many Buildings Unroofed and Otherwise Damaged by Winds—Several Lives Lost and a Number of People Injured, Some Fatally—Telephone, Telegraph and Electric Light Systems Almost Totally Demoralized.

CHICAGO, June 14.—A small sized tornado raged in this city between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The rainfall was terrific, the flood of water in many places being so dense that it was impossible to see buildings across the width of a street. The full force of the wind struck the southwest corner of the Home insurance building occupied by the Union National bank and blew in three large plate glass windows. So terrific was the shock that the plates were carried bodily into the bank, hurled half way across the counting room and shattered into fragments upon the desks and fixtures.

J. J. P. O'Dell, president of the bank, was struck on the thigh by a fragment of glass and severely cut. He was taken home in a carriage and it will be a week or two at least before he will have recovered from his wounds. The other occupants of the bank escaped unhurt. Several small plate glass windows in other parts of the building were demolished, and many of the young women employed in the office fainted.

The great canvas canopy over the Wigwam, in which will be held the national Democratic convention next week, was torn to tatters and so utterly ruined that the contractors determined to have done with it and use instead a timber roof. A number of columns will be erected to support the roof. It is feared that this arrangement will impair the acoustics of the amphitheater, but there is no way to avoid it. Work was begun last night on the roof and the contractors declare the Wigwam will be ready for the convention at the stipulated time. Seventy-five men were at work in the building when the storm came up, but none of them were injured.

The telephone, telegraph and electric light systems were almost totally demoralized. Poles and wires were torn down and general havoc was caused. The poles fell across the South Side cable tracks, and together with other debris blocked the passage of the cable trains for over an hour. Many houses were unroofed and otherwise damaged.

The Rentz & Stanley circus tent and poles at the corner of Twenty-eighth street and Wentworth avenue were razed to the ground and the performers compelled to seek shelter in neighboring houses. Several of the horses made their escape during the storm and have not yet been found. A number of small children were in the tent and became panic-stricken, but the attaches of the show succeeded in getting them out in safety.

A one-story brick cottage at 1336 Whipple street was totally destroyed by the storm, and its three inmates, Mrs. Frank Klima and her two children, buried beneath the ruins. The cottage stood directly in the path of the storm and hardly one brick was left upon the other. When the storm came up Mrs. Klima became frightened and made preparations to start for a place of safety. Before the three got out the building collapsed, and a heavy timber fell upon Mrs. Klima's two-year-old child, Anna, and killed her instantly. Mrs. Klima and Emma, four years old, were injured, but not seriously.

A portion of a brick building being erected at 509 Oakley avenue blew down, burying Gustave Zaring, a carpenter. Zaring's skull was fractured and several bones broken. It is thought that he will die from his injuries.

Armour's elevator "D" on Morgan street was struck by lightning and a portion of it destroyed. In the ruins was found the body of Charles J. Roberts, a fireman, who had been at work in the boiler room, crushed under a heavy iron door.

William Lossea, of 638 South Oakley Avenue, was struck on the head by bricks from a falling chimney and his skull fractured. He will probably die.

John Lial, a slate roofer, working on the roof of a Douglass Park greenhouse, was blown to the ground and so seriously injured that he will die.

John Michon, a lumber shover working in Hines Brothers' lumber yard, was struck by flying boards and fatally injured.

Twenty minutes before the storm broke forth a boat with three men in it was noticed on an almost even line with the south pier, about five miles out in the lake. After the storm had passed the lake was swept to the horizon with long distance glasses, but no trace of the craft could be seen. A steam launch afterwards found the boat capsized and the three men missing. Without doubt the three men lost their lives.

LAKE DISASTER.

Probably Ninety-Seven Lives Lost in Lake Michigan.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The graduating class of Northwestern university, numbering ninety-seven young ladies and gentlemen, took the steamer at Evans-ton, twelve miles north of Chicago, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Highland park, eleven miles distant, where they intended to spend the afternoon and evening in a picnic and general class jubilee.

The storm which did so much damage to the property in the city broke forth shortly after the excursion party had left, and the capsizing of the boat is counted among the possibilities by the friends and relatives of those on board. Up to the present time no word from the boat has been received. Anxious fathers and brothers spent the night in telephoning and telegraphing to various points endeavoring to get word from the picnickers. The last train into Evans-ton from Highland park brought no tidings.

A Second Storm Passes Over the City.

CHICAGO, June 14.—A second storm swept over the city at 10 o'clock last night. It lasted for three-quarters of an hour, but the damage done to property was not so great as that of the afternoon. No fatalities were reported.

UNION PRINTERS.

Fortieth Annual Convention of the International Typographical Union.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—Two hundred of the delegates to the fortieth annual convention of the International Typographical union assembled in the auditorium of the Drexel institute at Thirty-second and Chestnut streets, yesterday. The proceedings were opened by Chairman John M. Driver, of the local reception committee, introducing Rev. Dr. Watkins, who offered prayer for the prosperity of the organization and the delegates.

Major Moses Veale welcomed the 200 delegates on behalf of Governor Pattison in a neat address. In the course of his address, he spoke of the philanthropist, Mr. George W. Childs. At the mention of Mr. Childs name, the delegates broke into a loud and long continued applause, which was repeated whenever the great benefactor and patron of the printers' craft was referred to. A more subdued, but equally heartfelt, expression of their regard was also accorded Anthony J. Drexel.

At the conclusion of Major Veale's address, Mayor Stuart was introduced and extended to the delegates the greeting of the Quaker City.

George Chance, president of the homeopathic union of this city, on behalf of the members of that organization, extended a hearty welcome to the visitors.

Committees were then announced as follows:

Laws—McDonald of Lockport, McFarland and Thompson of Washington, Robnett of Sacramento, and Cain of Cincinnati.

Appeals—Williams of New York, Moran of Baltimore, Shuman of Denver, Wilkins of Brooklyn, and Self of Indianapolis.

Returns and finances—McIntyre of Denver, George of Boston, Woodward of Atlanta, Beecher of Chicago, and Black of St. Paul.

President's address—Lavis of Boston, Cully of Pittsburgh, Runkles of Omaha, Murphy of Baltimore, and Cleevy of Chicago.

Subordinate unions—Stewart of Toledo, Cupples of Houston, Campbell of Memphis, Saults of St. Paul, and Davenport of Chattanooga.

Miscellaneous business—Calloway of St. Paul, Phillips of Chicago, Healy of Richmond, Friese of Springfield, and Shelton of Richmond.

Credentials—Maurice Gulheen of St. Louis; Richard A. Norman of New Orleans; James F. Casey of Buffalo, F. P. Heine of Reading; F. A. Lawson of Washington.

In addition to the regular officers of the organization, Victor B. Williams, of Chicago, was elected reading clerk; Charles J. Dunar, of New York, assistant secretary; doorkeeper, Samuel Irvin; messengers, John Matthews and A. E. Crowell, the last three being of this city.

A parade took place at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, in which some 200 men participated.

WILL NOT BE LYNCHED.

Weems Locked Up in the Penitentiary for Twenty Years.

CHATTANOOGA, June 14.—Frank Weems, the negro rapist, was brought back to Chattanooga yesterday for trial. Sixty deputies and forty policemen, heavily armed, met the train, and the line of march was crowded with interested and excited spectators. At the court house there was a large crowd but no disorder occurred.

When his case was called Weems pleaded guilty to attempted rape and the judge sentenced him to twenty years in the penitentiary. The trial occupied only ten minutes. Weems was taken to the penitentiary at 1:45 p. m.

Fell Fifteen Hundred Feet.

BALTIMORE, June 14.—Charles Waite, an aeronaut, who gave a balloon exhibition at Tolchester beach, an excursion resort on the Chesapeake bay, Sunday, received injuries which are likely to prove fatal. When 1,500 feet above the ground he cut loose with a parachute, the ropes of which became tangled, preventing its opening properly. Waite came down like a flash, making frantic efforts to disentangle the ropes. He fell in a corn field, and when found was and still is unconscious. The doctors say no bones are broken.

Not the Actress' Husband.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The James Brown Potter who died aboard the steamer Cherokee was not the husband of the well known actress.

STORMS IN SPAIN.

Great Destruction Done at Several Places.

VERY HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE.

Churches Destroyed by Thunderbolts. In One Edifice Ten Persons Are Killed by a Stroke of Lightning—The Horror of a Panic Follow—Big Fire in Liverpool—Other Foreign News.

MADRID, June 14.—Terrific thunderstorms prevailed in various parts of Spain Sunday and great loss of life and injury by lightning is reported. The electricity seemed to pick out the churches as the objects on which to show its power, and unfortunately it did so while the services were in progress.

At Melias, in the province of Orense, the parish church was crowded with worshippers attending mass when the storm burst. Though the peals of thunder were very loud and the flashes of lightning extremely vivid, not much attention was paid to the storm at first.

Suddenly a most terrific crash of thunder followed almost immediately by a flash of lightning that was blinding in its intensity and caused the worshippers to spring to their feet in fear. Women shrieked in terror; little children clutched their parents in agony of terror.

For two or three seconds after the flash it was impossible to see anything, the transition from sudden brightness to extreme darkness rendering the people practically blind. The utmost confusion prevailed. Finally when order was restored the congregation were horrified to find that ten of their number had been struck by the lightning and instantly killed, and that twenty-eight others had been seriously injured.

When this became generally known the people were panic-stricken and rushed from the church in the pelting storm. Many of them, men, women and children, sought refuge in the open spaces in the vicinity of the church, fearing to enter a house, and there they remained drenched to the skin until the storm passed over.

An almost similar scene occurred at Muncientes, in the province of Valladolid. The church in that village was also struck by lightning. Five of the worshippers were killed and ten injured.

At Burgos, capital of the province of that name, considerable damage was done to the famous cathedral by lightning. Burgos cathedral is one of the oldest buildings in Spain, being founded in 1221 and finished in 1567. The lightning displaced a portion of one of the walls and did other damage. Nobody in the cathedral was hurt.

HORRIBLE STATEMENT.

A Bohemian Miner Confesses to Firing the Przibram Mine.

VIENNA, June 14.—A miner named Havelka has confessed that he caused the fire in the Przibram mines. His two brothers were among the dead. He says that he intended to keep his secret, but his resolution began to fail him after he saw the scores of bodies brought up.

He ran away to the hills to keep his associates from reminding him of the accident. He got a place in a factory in Barun eventually, but after remaining there two days was unable to keep his attention to work longer and started out again on his wanderings. He could not sleep and he could not beg enough food to satisfy his hunger. He feared that he would go crazy if he did not relieve his mind. He therefore went to a priest in Mihu, two days ago and confessed what he had done. The priest told him he must return at once to Przibram, and tell his story. He is under arrest.

The police think that Havelka is on the verge of insanity, if not already insane, and will have him examined by experts. The miner's story of the firing of the mine is incoherent. He at first said that during the change of shifts he poured petroleum on the woodwork and subsequently set fire to it. He then was appalled by what he had done and tried to extinguish the fire, but it was too late and so he ran for his life. Afterward Havelka corrected this version of the affair so as to give the idea that he accidentally dropped a match in a pile of refuse, and when he could not extinguish the flames, fled lest he should be apprehended in the vicinity and accused of incendiarism.

His first story is believed to be the correct one. He has been unruly ever since he was engaged to work in the mine three years ago. He had several fights with his superiors and two weeks before the fire, was threatened with discharge in case he did not reform. He formerly was a member of an anarchist society in Prague, and left the city because the police warned him that he was under surveillance and would be arrested unless he stopped his lurid speech making.

FIRE IN LIVERPOOL.

A Number of Large Warehouses Burned and Several People Injured.

LIVERPOOL, June 14.—Fire broke out yesterday evening near the Waterloo depot. Before the fire department arrived the warehouses was a mass of flames, and two adjoining warehouses had taken fire. All efforts to stop the progress of the flames were fruitless, and an hour after the first alarm was given the whole block, including five cotton warehouses was burning.

The heat was so intense that the firemen could not work in the streets immediately bounding the block, and the hose had to be laid and used exclusively in the side streets. The whole fire department of the city was called out. At 7 o'clock it was thought that the fire was subsiding, but half an hour later another large warehouse caught fire and a strong wind carried the brands to the roof of still another in the middle of another block. Both were destroyed.

Several persons are reported to have been injured, but so far as known, nobody has been killed. Most of the employees had left for the day when the fire broke out, and the men in all except the building first burned, received ample warning.

Food for Bears.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—While the peasants are starving with hunger, bears are driven by hunger to feed on peasants. A bear attacked a peasant near Peterhof, and devoured him, all except the bones. The animal, not satisfied with the meal, the peasant himself not having had a square meal for some time previously, prowled around for other victims. Bears have been seen nearer St. Petersburg than for several years past, and seem to be ravenous with hunger.

CONGRESS.

What Was Accomplished in the National Legislature.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The house yesterday devoted most of its session to the consideration of measures affecting the interests of the District of Columbia. Aside from local measures acted on, the following bills were passed: To prevent cruelty to children and animals; to include lot 53 block 59, Hot Springs, Ark., in the public reservation; authorizing the entry of lands chiefly valuable for building stone under the placer mining law; to protect settlement right where two or more persons settle upon the same subdivision of agricultural public lands before survey thereof; to relinquish title to land to Escambia lodge, in Pensacola, Fla.; to grant certain public lands lying within certain railroad land grants; to establish a division line between lands of the United States and the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad company near West Bellevue, Pa. The house then adjourned.

The senate transacted no business. After the introduction of petitions, memorials, a few reports and fewer bills, Mr. Peffer made some remarks on one of his financial measures, and when he had concluded the senate adjourned.

TRAIN ROBBERS FOILED.

The Company is Informed and They Fall to Secure $186,000.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., June 14.—An attempt was to be made Sunday night to hold up the New York and Philadelphia express on the Baltimore and Ohio, between Layton station and Connellsburg. The train leaves Pittsburgh at 9:20 p. m. The plaus of the train robbers were to board the train, rob the mail and express. The train carried $186,000.

The railroad officials in some way got word that the attempted robbery was to be made. A telegram was sent to Robert Sheppard, the Baltimore and Ohio railway detective here. He went to Uniontown, and from there a special train took Sheppard, Sheriff McCormick and a posse to Layton's station. There they boarded the express and rode through to Cumberland.

Had not the robbers gained information that the officials were on the lookout, it is likely that a big haul would have been made. The railroad people admit that they expected the robbery, but refuse any information.

Well That Supplies Lemonade.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., June 14.—Rennen Green, of Carty township, has a well on his premises which, during the months of May, June and July supplies the family and surrounding neighbors with water that savor strongly of lemonade. During the remaining months the water returns to its natural taste. Green says that some people look upon his discovery as a talty tale, but it is nevertheless true.

Mrs. Harrison's Condition.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The condition of Mrs. Harrison continues about the same. She holds up remarkably well under the fatiguing effects of the extremely warm weather. Mrs. Harrison will leave Washington some time in July for the Adirondacks, but the time of her departure can not be definitely stated.

Train Thrown Into a River.

BOULDER, Colo., June 14.—The narrow gauge passenger train, which runs on the Sunset branch of the Union Pacific railroad, turned over about one mile east of Sunset yesterday and engine, baggage car and coach are bottom side up in the river. No one was seriously hurt, though several passengers were badly bruised.

A Mother's Love.

RICHMOND, Ind., June 14.—Mrs. Crockett, mother of Lemuel Crockett, who was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for shooting City Marshal Drischel, is circulating a petition asking Judge Comstock to grant a new trial. So far it has been signed by but few.

Dairy Works Burned.

CLEVELAND, June 14.—Fire cleaned out the Union dairy works, on Jospeh street, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The works are employed in the manufacture of oleomargarine and contained a considerable quantity of the manufactured article. The total loss is about $16,000, $3,000 of which is on stock. The building was insured for $3,000 and the contents were fully covered by insurance.

Killed with a Ball Bat.

NEW CONCORD, O., June 14.—While the Peter's Creek and Bloomfield clubs were playing a match game of ball at Sago Saturday evening, Charles Rankin, of the Peter's Creek nine, let his bat fly. It struck William McCoy, a young farmer of Bloomfield, injuring him so that he died in a few hours. He was a spectator at the game.

The Smallest Baby.

ANDALIA, Ills., June 14.—There was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Cantel, of Wilberton township, this county, last week, a girl baby weighing one and one-half pounds. The child is perfectly healthy, and is probably the smallest child ever born in Illinois.</

WEATHER INDICATIONS.
Continued warm and mostly clearing weather; south winds.

By the way, what has become of Vice President Morton? His name doesn't seem to have been mentioned at the late convention of his party.

THE New York Herald thinks the "cohesive energy" of the delegates is what saved Mr. Harrison at Minneapolis. The office-holders were united to him by one common tie.

"It is not an easy task we have before us," candidly admits Mr. Reid, Republican nominee for Vice President. This is not very comforting to the Republicans, and if the Democrats unite on two good men next week, the Republicans will have a harder task than ever before them.

THERE is no city in the State, perhaps, that is dominated as much by the liquor element as Lexington. The Transcript is authority for the statement that the city has 204 saloon-keepers who pay no county or State license, and that many of the number have never been required to pay license since they went into business.

The Office-Holders' Victory.
"The office-holders nobly stuck by the creator of their appointments. Civil Service Reform got a very black eye at Minneapolis," observes the Louisville Post. "About one-sixth of the delegates were men who held office under Harrison, and if they were not appointed to help the appointer, for what were they appointed? They howled with zeal and unctuous worthy of their pay, and they all earned their salaries—paid out of the United States treasury—by helping to nominate a man who put them in the way of getting their daily bread. Mr. Harrison has found out that for a real first-class stayer in a convention—one that can not be stamped—one that will always turn up right side with care—one that will never dull—the holder of a fat government appointment can not be improved upon."

Harrison's "Clean" Administration.
"The talk about Harrison's administration being 'clean' doubtless emanates from the professional humorists. It is preposterous, says the Indianapolis Sentinel, to associate the adjective 'clean' with an administration which sold a Cabinet position to John Wanamaker; which put Porter at the head of the Census Bureau and allowed him to fill the official records of the Republican with lies and forgeries; which called Steve Elkins, prince of the land grabbers and whisky ringsters, to its council table; which put a coarse rascal like Raum at the head of the Pension Bureau and permitted him to prostitute it to the vilest personal and partisan ends, and which rewarded William A. Woods with a promotion on the Federal Bench for using his judicial power to protect the scoundrels to whose crimes this very administration owes its existence. Clean? The Harrison administration has had more scandals than any other in our history, save Grant's. These scandals will be thoroughly ventilated between now and November."

What the G. O. P. Ticket Represents.
O. O. Stealey, writing from Minneapolis last Friday, said: "The ticket nominated here to-day represents the money devil in all his hideous and crushing force. It represents trusts, combines, wealth and centralization of power to be used with cruel force against the common people. The platform means high taxes for the poor and no taxes for the rich; it also means to grind down honest working-manhood and build up rich and privileged classes."

"If Harrison should win, the money power in the next four years would have such a firm hold upon the machine at Washington, that it would fasten its iron collar around the throats of the people so safely and securely that it would be long years before the people would regain their liberty.

"Ten Republicans in the United States Senate now, and they will support Harrison, are worth more than ten millions each. If this statement is disputed I can prove it is true. It is a money aristocracy that confronts the people, and the only way to tear it down is to hurl from office aristocrats like Ben Harrison, who is backed by the money power and supported by his own army of 125,000 office-holders."

A Suggestion.

Some of the men of means at Connerville, Ind., bought up $50,000 worth of land in the suburbs of that city a few days ago. Having secured the land, they have now set themselves to work to enhance its value. They intend establishing several factories on the site—one having already been secured—and an electric railway to the grounds is also projected. If their plans are carried out, the increase in the value of the land in the next few years will more than pay for the factories and the railway.

The plan adopted at Connerville ought to commend itself to certain citizens of this city. There are eight or ten men who own most of the unimproved real estate in the East End and have owned it for years. An electric railway is already in operation. It would be big money in the pockets of all concerned if the owners of the railway and the owners of the land in question would combine their efforts and establish a few factories in that end of the city. The increase in the value of their land, and the enhanced value of their other interests would more than pay for the money they would put in the factories.

Why sit idle and wait for years for growth and development, when it can be brought about in twelve months?

OPPOSITION TO REID.

Representatives of Organized Labor Object to the Nomination.

Baltimore, June 11.—There was considerable comment to-day among the labor men here, and especially of members of the Typographical Union, with reference to the nomination of Whitelaw Reid for the Vice Presidency on the Republican ticket. They generally regard the bitter fight which the Tribune made for many years against organized labor as a more powerful argument with labor men throughout the country than the recommendation of the New York compositors, with whom he patched up matters on the eve of his nomination. Jacob G. Shonfarber, who is not only a prominent member of the local typographical union, but is also Master Workman of the district Knights of Labor, said: "I am sure there will be much opposition to the election of Reid, and it may result in the defeat of Harrison."

James McDowell, Corresponding Secretary of Baltimore Typographical Union, said: "There is no doubt he will meet serious opposition among the ranks of labor. What the final result will be I can not say, but of one thing I am certain, and that is if organized labor does not directly oppose him, there will be a big split."

Sounds Like Senator Blackburn.
On last Friday a party of Senators were gathered in a committee room at the Senate end of the Capitol, after the Senate had adjourned, to receive the convention bulletins. A private wire had been run into the room for the occasion, and the Western Union Telegraph Company had provided an operator. When the bulletin came announcing that Ohio had voted forty-four for McKinley and two for Harrison there was a great deal of surprise expressed. Then came the bulletin announcing that McKinley had relinquished the gavel and gone down to his delegation.

"He's gone after those other two votes," remarked one of the Senators quickly. Almost immediately the bulletin to the effect that the delegation had been polled and McKinley had received forty-five and Harrison one was received.

"Well, by—," remarked the Senator, "he got one of them, anyway."—Enquirer correspondent.

Big Premiums.

The Germantown Fair Company has decided to offer a premium of $200 for the best saddle horse, mare or gelding and also a premium of $200 for the best harness horse, mare or gelding, at the next fair. Entries to close the first day of the Maysville fair. This ought to insure a grand show of the finest saddle and harness horses in the State.

CARNEGIE CUTS WAGES.

Reduction in the Scale Submitted to the Association of Iron Workers.

Pittsburg, Penn., June 12.—The Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers has received from the Carnegie Steel Company, Limited, of Homestead, the firm's scale for work in the ensuing year. In the open hearth furnaces the firm calls for a reduction of 19 per cent. from the present rate, and in the armor plate department 20 per cent. off the old basis.

In the plate mill the minimum is reduced from $25 to $22, and in the mill there is also a general reduction of 25 to 50 per cent. It is thought that there will be no change in the price for puddling. The rate is now $5.50 per ton, and there is little support to a movement to advance it to $6.50.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—A bitter struggle between capital and labor is expected to begin at the Homestead Steel Works of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., owing to a proposed reduction of from 10 to 40 per cent in wages. The Carnegie firm is preparing to put non-union men in the workmen's places and are making preparations for a long siege.

Druggists' License.

The Pharmaceutical State Association is making an effort to have removed the requirement for license for druggists.

The annual license is fixed by the bill now pending in the Legislature at $75. The druggists claim this is an injustice because the liquors sold by them are official and just as much as medicine. They are included in the pharmacopeia and prescribed as often, almost, as any other medicine. They say that many druggists sell liquor for other than medicinal purposes, but propose to avoid this by giving bond to sell only as medicine. They also oppose the necessity imposed of having doctors' prescriptions. They claim that the prescription can be obtained without difficulty by anybody wanting a drink, and that the reputable druggist is well qualified to judge whether the liquor is wanted for medical purposes or not as any physician, and being responsible on his bond will be more careful.

County Court.

A report of the settlement of John and Thomas Dickson, administrators of J. S. Dickson, was filed and continued for exceptions.

An inventory of the personal estate of Chas. Meissner, deceased, was filed. The appraisal amounted to $236.75.

An Awkward Blunder.

At a certain court of justice an awkward blunder was made by the prisoner in the dock. He was being tried for murder and the evidence was almost wholly circumstantial, a chief portion of it being a hat of the ordinary "billycock" pattern that had been found close to the scene of the crime, and which, moreover, was sworn to as the prisoner's. Counsel for the defense expatiated upon the commonness of hats of the kind.

"You, gentlemen," he said, "no doubt each of you has just such a hat as this. Beware, then, how you condemn a fellow creature on such a piece of evidence," and so forth. In the end the man was acquitted, but just as he was leaving the dock he turned in a respectful manner to the judge and said, "If you please, my lord, may I have my hat?"—London Public Opinion.

Marriage by Proxy.

A curious custom among the rulers of the Old World is marriage by proxy. For instance, Francis II, the ex-king of Naples, was wedded by proxy in 1859 to Maria, a duchess of Bavaria. Of course the marriage by proxy goes no further than the ceremony. Exactly why it should be done at all is not clear by past or present history, unless to save the prince the trouble of going after his wife and give her a decent excuse for coming to him.

In the case of Francis, he had never seen Maria, and their first interview is said to have been attended with considerable disappointment. In fact, if the young man had not been already married by proxy he would probably have never married the lady at all.—Drake's Magazine.

THE INSURANCE BUREAU.

A Legislator Wants it Abolished—Another Veto—The Redistricting Wrangle.

In the House at Frankfort yesterday Representative Pettit offered a resolution applying the knife to the Insurance Commissioner. He recites that insurance rates are higher in this State than in any adjoining State; that the insurance department has not protected insurance policy holders, and unless the insurance committee can find some reason why the bureau should be continued, the resolution directs them to bring in an act abolishing it.

A resolution was offered authorizing the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to investigate the feasibility of converting the upper part of the penitentiary chapel into sleeping rooms for trustees and cripples, for the relief of the overcrowded cells. Mr. Quigley stated that many of the small cells were occupied by two convicts and they slowly sweat to death.

Mr. Quigley also offered a joint resolution directing the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to employ an architect to draw plans of cost of construction of a building within the walls of the penitentiary at Frankfort to contain not less than 100 nor more than 400 cells for convicts.

The Revisory Commissioner's chapter on Fugitives from Justice was passed.

Mr. Bashaw's joint resolution to withdraw the $15,000 appropriation to the Lexington Centennial brought up a discussion. It was claimed that as the money was appropriated by bill, it could only be withdrawn by bill, and not by resolution. It being a part of the World's Fair appropriation friends of that measure wanted it retained for its benefit. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Governor Brown sent in a veto to Mr. Sims' bill, authorizing County Courts to issue bonds for repair and construction of court houses and jails. The veto was sustained. The reason assigned for it was the same given in a veto last week, namely: That it did not conform to the provisions of the new Constitution in regard to the protection of blind and illiterate voters.

In the Senate the Equalization Board bill was dropped into the orders of the day by failure of a quorum voting on it.

Senator Wortham introduced a bill dividing the State into twenty-five judicial districts. This bill places Mason County in the Twentieth district, along with Fleming, Bath, Lewis and Greenup. It places Bracken, Robertson, Nicholas, Pendleton and Harrison in the Nineteenth.

Her great-grandmother is her great-aunt, being a sister of her grandmother Powers."

C. C. SPARKS, a Cincinnati attorney, has been called upon by Chief of Police Deitsch to explain away a serious charge. Last week, a negro woman named Mitchell robbed a Kentucky farmer named Harrison of $215. Sparks defended her, but she was sent to jail to answer the charge. After the trial he went to her room, ripped open two pillows and left. It is thought he got the money, and the Chief wants him to explain. Sparks claims the pillows were cut open in the presence of several witnesses and that he did not find any money.

SURROUNDED BY WATER.
New Orleans Nothing but an Island.
Great Flood Disasters.

NEW ORLEANS, June 14.—The river yesterday reached the highest point known here for the past forty-five years and in consequence New Orleans is today, literally speaking, an island. Crevasses above, crevasses below, the raging river in front and the rapidly rising Lake Pontchartrain in the rear has hemmed the city in and traffic on three roads has been suspended.

Sunday night at midnight the gauge read eighteen feet above high water mark. People who knew well what this rise meant, hoped that by morning there would be a decline, but when daybreak came and the gauge was scanned, old-timers were staggered when they read eighteen and two-tenths.

At 6 o'clock the first break was reported. It happened at Belmont place, about twenty miles above the city, on the Mississippi Valley road; seventy-five feet of the levee gave way at one clip, and the water within an hour's time, had dug a channel twelve feet deep. The Valley tracks were quickly under two feet of water and all traffic was stopped.

Following closely on the reports from Belmont came the news of three breaks eleven miles below the city, all within one mile of each other. The first break occurred at Stoney's, near where a crevasse occurred a month ago but now closed. It started at a fifty-foot rate, but widened so rapidly that by noon it was one hundred feet wide and ten feet deep and still breaking. The second break was at Villere plantation, a half mile away. Fifty feet was its width. Two hours afterward the levee gave way. The third break is at the Merrick place, a mile below Villere. It is only twenty feet wide, and hopes are entertained of closing it.

The three crevasses have tied up the Southern railway which runs from this city to the gulf.

Hardly had the engineers recovered from this disastrous news when a telephone message was received from Wagaman, thirteen miles up on the other side of the river, stating that the entire levee at that point, several hundred yards in length, had toppled into the rushing waters. The Texas and Pacific tracks are just behind the levee, and the swish of the water washed the tracks up for a considerable distance. The Texas and Pacific people have shut down on traffic.

The last break to occur was at the Surpy Prospect plantation, on the Valley road a few miles below Belmont. It is twenty-five feet deep and five feet wide, and will assist in widening the Belmont break and also worry the Valley officials.

All of these crevasses following so closely on each other has occasioned considerable alarm throughout the city. The levees that protect New Orleans are good and strong so far, but the greatest anxiety is being felt on account of the June rise that is on the way down.

Missouri River Booming.

KANSAS CITY, June 14.—The Missouri river is booming here and reports from up the river say that a big flood is now coming down from the upper country, caused by heavy rains and cloudbursts in the last few days. The present high water here is from the June rise, and if on top of this comes floods from such sources as indicated, there is every reason to fear grave danger to the low lands.

SENSATION IN CHURCH.

A Woman Tells How Her Child Was Kidnapped.

PLAINFIELD, Ind., June 14.—Just at the close of the morning services at the Friends' church Sunday, quite a sensation was caused by a woman entering the audience room and asking attention for a moment. She stated that she was formerly the wife of Jonathan Lawrence, who was at one time a resident of Monrovia. Mrs. Lawrence was divorced from her husband and given custody of her two-year-old child, but on Wednesday last Mr. Lawrence succeeded in kidnapping the little one, and he was seen to start from Indianapolis west.

The grief-stricken mother, accompanied by her brother-in-law, has been going up and down the country searching for her child. Mr. Lawrence has with him two children by a former marriage, aged, respectively, twelve and fourteen years. He is supposed to be tramping over the country, as he was known to have only thirty-five cents in money when he left. Persons acquainting with Mr. Lawrence fear that his mind is unsettled.

Fell from a Train.

MIDDLETOWN, O., June 14.—Gus Banzhaf, aged fifteen, living with his aunt, boarded a switch engine yesterday in the Big Four yards. He grew dizzy and fell off. His left leg was broken in two places, his shoulder badly cut and his head cut in seven places. He may die.

Tramps That Deserve Lynching.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., June 14.—Tramps Sunday night made an assault upon Chris Ettell, Jr., because the latter refused them food. Later in the evening they retaliated by setting fire to his smokehouse, and were about to apply a torch to his residence when discovered.

Threatened with a Torch.

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 14.—An anonymous letter was received by The Tribune this morning from Jeannette "Speak Easy" proprietors warning the officials that if they do not cease prosecuting the torch will be applied to the public buildings and county bridges.

Drowned While Bathing.

NEWARK, O., June 14.—Clyde, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Ashbrook, of Granville, was drowned while swimming with some companions in the creek near the town. He was taken from the water by Marshal Kelvey, but life was extinct.

Fined for Assaulting a Child.

MASILLON, O., June 14.—William Kayler, a married man with two children, who was charged with attempted criminal assault upon the eight-year-old daughter of John Karrer, was found guilty of assault and battery and fined $50 and costs.

PORK PACKING AND PROVISIONS.

(Cincinnati Price Current, June 9.)

There has been a large movement of hogs the past week, packing returns for the West indicating a total of 285,000 compared with 315,000 the preceding week and 240,000 for corresponding period last year, making a total of 3,310,000 hogs since March 1, against 3,015,000 a year ago, an increase of 295,000. Although the demand has been well sustained, the extent of the offerings has tended to unseat prices, which close $10 per 100 pounds lower than a week ago in most markets.

The quality of the marketings is more irregular, but it is evident that many animals have been sent forward not intended for market so early. The continued high price of corn and uncertainty of outlook of this crop has influenced many to dispose of their hogs who otherwise would have put them in more mature condition. In this position the speculative interest has been irregular, and, as a whole, rather unimportant, while the movement of product for consumption has been fairly good. There has been a moderate change to lower prices since a week ago. The expectation of hog product keeps up well, the total for the week being quite decidedly in excess of corresponding time last year in both meats and lard.

The market has been steady and regular this week with no new developments, prices remaining about the same on all grades. The seasons for setting the crop have been almost continuous for some weeks past, and decided progress has been made in the direction of putting the crop on the hill; in fact, the crop is very much nearer set than usual at this time of the year, but the ground has been poorly worked and is by no means in first-class condition.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for ordinary tobacco, crop of 1891.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3,316 hds., with receipts for the same period of 2,909 hds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to $3,748 hds. Sales of the crop of 1891 on our market to this date amount to 71,367 hds.

The market has been steady and regular this week with no new developments, prices remaining about the same on all grades. The seasons for setting the crop have been almost continuous for some weeks past, and decided progress has been made in the direction of putting the crop on the hill; in fact, the crop is very much nearer set than usual at this time of the year, but the ground has been poorly worked and is by no means in first-class condition.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for ordinary tobacco, crop of 1891.
